DETAILED ACTION

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

1. Claims 1-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Crosland (US 6,330,631).

Claims 1 and 6. Crosland discloses memory 16 (figure 1) storing bytes of data lines and buffer first and second sections of memory (first and second bus) and memory access controller comprising a shifter with an input connected to receive bytes from memory in accordance with the shift value for storage (see col. 1, lines 31-43, col. 2, lines 36-47 and col. 10, lines 43-62).

Claim 2. The system disclosed by Crosland discusses that offset fields is operated on and returned in the same address location as originally read. Therefore inherently packet buffer controller, as referred above, comprises a wrap-around shifter register (see col. 1, lines 43-52).

Claim 3. Crosland discloses masking a line on a byte-by-byte basis, although the selection is applicable to other basis as well (see col. 11, lines 8-24).

Claims 4, 5 and 7. Crosland further discloses a control logic that selects the bits or bytes by operating the shift and accumulate unit to operate in successive cycles for successive sets of input bytes (see col. 1, lines 43-60).

Claims 8 and 9. Crosland discloses writing write bytes of the shifted line of data, that are in unmasked position, into the buffer and reading output data from first and second lines (see steps in figure 7A, col. 7, lines 21 through col. 8, lines 1-60).

2. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Boucher et al. (2004/0030745, 2004/0003126 and 2004/0062246).
